Identify the type of the text through skimming to answer a question.	• Communication • Tr. asks SS" What happened to Marcus on his tour?" • Tr. asks Ss to skim read the email and have them underline any unknown words. • Tr. has Ss answer the question. • Tr. checks the answers with the class.	1. Was Marcus Meridian happy? 2. What makes good customer expe
SB: Ex. A 1/2 (P.117) 2. Recognize the features of a letter of complaint through scanning the text and writing the numbers in first activity,	Learning stations • T asks Ss to open their SB page 117 \ • - Tr reminds Ss of the station strategy and numbered heads.	https://wordwall.net/resource/12

and ticking the statements that apply to the feature in the second activity.	• Tr explains to Ss that they will work in 3 different stations (groups). Each group is dedicated to analyze the whole email. • Tr asks Ss to infer the features of the complaint letter/ email by answering different analysis questions in each station. • T help Ss to complete a heathy and smooth transition between the groups by dedicating 3 mints for each station. • Tr asks Ss to return to their main groups and initiate another discussion about their findings to discuss the whole text • Tr asks Ss to draw and overall conclusion of the complaint letter by doing the checklist • • Tr sets enough time for this activity • • The group which is done raises the done sign • • Elicit answers and provide the feedback needed. • • High-performing Ss: may be given CR and critical thinking questions
SB: Ex. C (P.103) 3. Identify informal language mistakes in a complaint email and rewrite the email using proper formal language.	Creative and critical thinking • Tr instructs students to underline all informal words, slang, and spelling mistakes in the email. • Students work individually to spot the mistakes. • Discussion of Mistakes (5 min) • Tr goes through the email, asking students to share the mistakes they found. • Tr explains why each underlined word or phrase is incorrect for a formal email. • Correcting the Mistakes (5–7 min) • Students rewrite the email, replacing informal words with formal alternatives and fixing spelling/grammar errors. • Tr circulates to provide guidance as needed. • Sharing and Feedback (5 min) • Selected students read their corrected versions aloud. • Tr gives feedback, highlighting good corrections and pointing out remaining errors. • . DI Tr provides students with the informal complaint email. For lower performers, the mistakes are already underlined. Students read the email silently to understand the content.	Discussion
Lesson Closure	Exit cards

Homework	Ss are asked to write a short complaint about their English classes.

Station 1

Read the paragraph then answer the following questions:

Paragraph (1)

Dear Sir/Madam,

1 I am writing to complain about the Serengeti Safari Package Tour I booked through Liberty Travel from 21 to 31 March. I was terribly dissatisfied with the tour and feel obliged to complain as what we got was not what we were promised.

1- Which phrase did the writer use to start the email? Mention it

Dear sir / madam formal greeting

2- What is the purpose of writing the email?

to complain about the package tour

3- Did the writer mention the time and place of the incident? Mention them.

the serengeti safari 21 to 31 march

Excellent

Station 2

Read the paragraph then answer the following questions:

Paragraph (2+3)

2 Firstly, we had booked an all-inclusive package, but there were additional costs involved. The package clearly stated we would receive complimentary transfer from the airport to our hotel and that full board was included in the price. However, we were expected to take a taxi to the hotel and only breakfast was provided. In addition, we were told by the travel agent who booked our tour that March was a great time of the year to see a variety of wildlife. This turned out to be untrue as it was the rainy season and, as a result, we were unable to see many of the animals.

3 While there, I made several attempts to contact your agency to inform them of the situation. I was, however, repeatedly told that the employee who handles complaints was unavailable and that she would contact me in due course. She, unfortunately, neglected to do so.

1-How many problems did the writer mention?

There was 3 problems mentioned.

2-What did the writer use to link between the problems? Give examples.

However, In addition, as a result.

3- What was the writer's reaction towards the problem?

~~He was calm and unhappy~~ I made several attempts to contact the agency

4-Which style did the writer use? (formal/informal) Justify your answer.

The style was formal.

Excellent
